The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipation of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom that cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Morners's Friend during pregnangers and the scientific liniment is a godsend to all women at the time of their most critical ordeal. Not only does Morners's Friend carry woman safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Bertilion, with gestures and in the shrill, pitched voice of a quack at a country fair, continued his monologue producing every minute some fresh paper covered with wonderful hiero glypnics, copies of which he presented to the judges, who, with an expression of owl-like wisdom, carefully exammed them. M. Bertillon leaned over their table, trying to explain his mystifying diagrams, which were afterward passed to Labori and Demange, who, nowever, apparently did not derive much profit from their perusal. Dreyfus gazed at the scene with a look of stupetaction. The clearest utterance of M. Bertillon during the course of his demonstration was that the handwriting of the borderean "obeys a geometrical rnythm of which I discovered the equation in the prisoner's blotting pad." anally announced that he would give a practical demonstration of the writing of the bordereau, according to his sys-tem. The judges, counsel, the government commissary, Major Carriere, and the clerk of the court clustered around in one group, eager to see the result. The audience watched this strange spectacle until Colonel Jouanst shrugged his shoulders, and then the spectators knew that M. Bertilion had failed to satisfy them. M. Bertilion noticed this and said apologetically:

"I was too badly placed." Maitre Demange, of counsel for the defense, returned to counsel's table, and Drevfus, whispered a few words to the prisoner with a shrug of his shoulders and a smile on his lace. Dreyfus ap peared perfectly satisfied. Colonel Jonanst then adjourned th

To the newspaper men who crowded around Maitre Labori, asking him for his impressions, counsel said there was a certain resemblance to the bordereau "But that is all. M. Bertillon only did what dozens could do. It only proves he is a clever forger. That is
